VOL. XIX.] WEDNESDAY, JUNE 24, 1818. [No. 5262.

For the prevention and cure of BILIOUS AND MALIGNANT FEVERS is recommended

HAHN's ANTI BILIOUS PILLS

THIS Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly grateful to the inventor's feelings in several parts of the West Indies and in the Southern and Middle States, &c.

The testimony of a number of person can be adduced, who have reason to believe that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives when in the most alarming circumstances.

Facts of this conclusive nature speak more in favour of a medicine than columns of pompous eulogy founded on mere assertion.

It is not indeed presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience for believing that a dose of these Pills taken once in every two weeks during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an infallible preventive; and further, that in the earlier stages of those diseases their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases esteemed desperate and beyond the power of common remedies.

The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation and of every age.

They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile and prevent its morbid secretions—to restore and amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which are often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold if taken on its first appearance: they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

They have been found remarkably efficacious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.

Hamilton's Elixir,

A sovereign remedy for colds, obstinate coughs, asthmas, sore throats, catarrhs, and approaching consumptions.—To parents who have children afflicted with the HOOPING COUGH, this discovery is of the first magnitude, as it affords immediate relief, checks the progress, and in a short time entirely removes the most cruel disorders to which children are liable. The Elixir is perfectly agreeable, and the dose so small that no difficulty arises in taking it.

Hamilton's Grand Restorative,

Is recommended as an invaluable medicine for the speedy relief and permanent cure of

Nervous Disorders	Violent cramps in the stomach and back
Consumptions	Indigestion
Lowness of spirits	Melancholy
Loss of appetite	Gout in the stomach
Impurity of blood	Pains in the limbs
Hysteric'l affection	Relaxations, etc.
Inward weaknesses and debility

Hamilton's Essence and Extract of Mustard.

A safe and effectual remedy for acute and chronic rheumatism, gout, rheumatic gout palsy, lumbago, numbness, white swellings, chilblains, sprains, bruises, pain in the face and neck, etc. etc.

Lee's Ointment for the Itch.

Warranted an infallible remedy at one application, may be used with perfect safety by pregnant women, or on infants a week old, not containing a particle of mercury or any dangerous ingredient whatever, and not accompanied with that tormenting smart which attends the application of other remedies.

Hahn's true & genuine German Corn Plaister.

An infallible remedy for corns, speedily removing them root and branch, without giving any pain.

The Genuine Persian Lotion,

So celebrated among the fashionable throughout Europe, is an invaluable cosmetic, perfectly innocent and safe, free from corrosive and repellent minerals, the basis of other lotions, and of unparalleled efficacy in removing blemishes on the face and skin, freckles, pimples, inflamatory redness, scurfs, tetters, ringworms, sunburns, prickly heat, &c.

Hahn's genuine Eye Water,

A sovereign remedy for all diseases of the eyes, whether the effect of nature weakness or of accident.

Tooth Ache Drops.

The only remedy yet discovered which gives immediate and lasting relief in the most severe instances.

Lee's Infallible Ague and Fever Drops

For the cure of agues, remittent and intermittent fevers.

☞ At the place of sale pamphlets may be had gratis, describing cures performed by the above medicines; the numerous importance and respectability of which, fully justify every article of this advertisement.

Fifty Dollars Reward.

THERE came to the stables of the subscriber, on Monday the 1st inst. a person calling himself and obtained a horse and gig on hire, as he said, to go to Ellicott's Mills, and return in the afternoon of the same day; and as he has not yet returned, there is strong reason to believe that his intention is to swindle me out of my property. He is about 5 feet 8 or 9 inches high, apparently about 25 or 30 years of age, of genteel appearance, and well calculated to deceive.

Mr. PEYTON,

The horse is a grey, about 15 hands high, 9 or 10 years old, has a switch tail, a speck on the right eye, and moves swiftly. The gig has a green body, carriage and wheels black, the lining of blue cloth, red stuff top, linings, plated double—outside joints.

I will give the above reward for the recovery of the horse and gig, and the detection of the scoundrel, or 20 dollars for the horse and gig only, and all reasonable expenses if delivered to me, No. 26, North Liberty street, Baltimore.

FOR THE GAZETTE.

THE GIRL I LOVE.

When Fate commands me hence to rove,
And far o'er distant lands to stray,
My song shall be, the girl I love,
To sooth my heart, when far away.

I'll often think on evenings long,
When I have seen her light and gay;
And she shall be my sweetest song,
When o'er the hills, and far away.

Her gentle chat, and loving smile
With jovial mirth and sportive play,
Shall oft my saddest hours beguile,
When I am distant, far away.

Yes, when the raging billows roar,
And fill my heart with sore dismay,
I'll think upon the native shore,
And sing of thee, when far away.

When lone, and sad the hours I count,
And long to find the close of day,
My soul on fancy's wing shall mount,
And fly to thee, when far away.

Yes, loving girl, on thee I'll muse,
When I am doom'd to rove and stray;
And wilt thou then a sigh refuse,
Or think of me, when far away?

VIRCINGETORIX.

FOR THE GAZETTE.

Mr. Editor,

That "it is human to err, and divine to forgive," is a maxim which includes in itself such excellent morality, such humanity, such benevolence and charity, when we consider the frailty and imperfection to which human nature is subject, that reason and conscience declare this rule sacred and inviolate. To return good for evil, is a rule appointed by divine law to promote the peace and happiness of mankind. This is the basis on which the most perfect system of ethicks is established, which is perhaps paramount to the evangelical precept: "whatsoever thou wouldst other men should do unto thee, do thou even unto them, upon which hang the law and the prophets." Can you show me a man who acts up to these rules and maxims? I presume not. I acknowledge I cannot conform to them.

There are, sir, so many simpletons who fall below the dignity of revenge, that a man must want sense and self-importance to seek any other revenge than that recommended in the moral to the fable of the ass and wild boar:—

"Un baudet ont l'empirtenence de suiore un sanglin et de braire apus lui pour l'insulte.

"L'animal courageux en fut d'abord ervite; mais tourant la tete, il vet d'ou venoit l'insulte; il continua tranquillement son chemin, sans honour le faquin d'un seule parole"

Now for the moral to the fable, which is so applicable:—

"Le silence et le nupris sonte la seule vengeance qu un galant homme duroit prendre d'un sot."

In vain shall you arraign these fellows before any tribunal—they will plead to the jurisdiction, 'we are fools, and therefore are not amenable to your rules.'—Let them beware, lest public odium and contempt affix its pigma on their characters.

WIT WELL APPLIED.

Tom Brown having once asked a man how he contrived to live in these hard times, was answered, 'Why, Master Brown, I live as I believe you do, by my wits.' 'Faith, (replied Tom) you must be a much more able trader than I thought you, to carry on business, and live upon so small a capital.'

A barrister who was without employment in his profession, being asked why he had enrolled himself in a corps of volunteers? 'Because, (replied he) I wish to have at least one cause to defend.'

PREVISH PEOPLE.

It is an unfortunate circumstance in life to be connected with rough and peevish people, who are ever in contention with us upon the most simple trifles.

Benefits and gratefulness, when interchanged by generous natures, are bonds garlanded in paradise.

ALEXANDRIA:
WEDNESDAY, JUNE 24, 1818.

Naval fight.—The Mexican schooner General Victoria, arrived at Wilmington on the 10th of May, was attacked by two Spanish brigs and a schooner.—In the midst of rapid firing, the General Victoria made a bold attempt to board the commodore's brig, when she blew up, carrying away the bowsprit of the G. V.—The other brig ran down to attack, but two well served Long Toms, well supplied with grape, caused her, after being disabled, to haul off, and leave his brave Commodore. Having repaired damages, the G. V. sent boats to save the wrecked Spaniards on board the blown up Commodore. Next day hired a Dutch fisherman to land them at Carracoa.

[N. York Gaz.

The brig Alfred, Captain Kingsbury, brings, for our vaults, 270,000 dollars, in franc pieces.—Millions more of the precious metals are expected of the same shape and form. [ibid.

Prices at Londonderry, May 2, Flaxseed l5 10s.—at Belfast l4 10s per cask. [ibid.

"The King of Rome"—Under this head, the Democratic Press thus remarks. "By a gentleman lately from Vienna, we learn that the son of Napoleon Bonaparte is regarded, and universally spoken of, in the capital of Germany, as heir apparent to the throne on the death of Louis XVIII.—His mother the Grand Dutchess of Parma, to be regent until her son shall be of age. The honors paid to young Napoleon are greater than those paid to any individual in Vienna, the Emperor alone excepted. Whenever he passes an Austrian post or guard, the Generale is beat and the troops salute—when he rides out, his carriage has not only a military guard, but is encompassed by a guard of noblemen who are attached to the Emperor of Austria, and on the pannels of the carriage are the Imperial French eagles."

HURRICANE AT THE ISLE OF FRANCE.

Translated for the Salem Register, from the Gazette of Mauritius, printed at Fort Louis.

Our distressed colony has probably suffered more in the late storm than in the fire of the 27th Sept. 1816. The storm which happened on the 28th of February and 1st of March, has spared nothing by land or water. All the vessels in the port were lost or damaged in some degree, and many lives have been lost.—Many houses in the town are ruined.—On the plantations, the buildings have suffered as much as the field. Many planters have lost their all, and the distress is general. It is impossible, while every one is busy to see what is left to him, rather than to tell his losses, to obtain an exact account of the losses the colony has sustained. We beg our friends and the inhabitants in general to give us every aid in a general statement, for which they shall have our thanks.—The barometer sunk lower than was ever known, and most of those who observed it were unable at first to account for the notices it gave in so extraordinary a manner. It appears that the most violent blasts were from the N. E. but with a force very unequal, as we could see small vessels stand it, while others of the greatest strength were destroyed at a small distance from them. Many persons observed that the rain water was salt, and on the day after the storm the water which flows near the town was found brackish.

From the Catskill Recorder, of June 17.

SINGULAR INCIDENT.

On Sunday the 7th instant, Mr. Story in company with 5 other persons, started from the town of Cairo on a bear hunt.—Mr. S. found it necessary to ascend a precipice; in the act of which to assist his ascent, he clung to a rock, which was so nicely balanced as to turn immediately over, and receive him under it. The 5 men ran to his assistance, but their utmost efforts to remove the rock, (supposed to weigh about two tons) were unavailing; and he remained beneath it until they literally dug the rock in pieces with their axes, being one hour and a half. When relieved he was apparently dead, many of his ribs broken, and otherwise bruised; but there is now a hope of his recovery.

FROM MEXICO.

The following extracts from printed despatches, intercepted by the Indian Comanches, have been sent to us by a respectable and credible correspondent:

"On the 1st of March a serious engagement took place in the province of Vera Cruz, between the royal troops and the insurgents, under the command of general Guadaloupe Vittoria. The fort Chiqui Huite and the bridge of Araye were retaken by the patriots, together with the ammunition, artillery, and all the other arms.

"The loss of the Spaniards was great; col. Santa Maria is among the slain.

"The road from Vera Cruz to Mexico is again occupied by Vittoria; a part of his cavalry under gen. Belgarde had advanced on Vera Cruz, and carried away cattle, &c.

"There are skirmishing at the gates of the town almost every day.—The congress resides at Zelaya, protected by captain general Anaya's army. Detachments of Teran's army had joined him."

MANGANESE.

This useful mineral has recently been discovered on Big Sandy river, in the vicinity of Greenupsburg, Kentucky, where it is said to exist in great abundance, and judging from the external character of a sample I have in my possession, I am led to think it is of a quality no way inferior to that of foreign production.

Manganese is a heavy, black, metallic substance, resembling in the more perfect specimens pot metal, and soiling the fingers like soot. It is employed in the arts by the bleacher, potter, and glass maker, and for the purpose of experiment in the laboratory of the chemist.—By the bleacher it is used in the preparation of oxymuriatic acid, according to the method of bleaching now universally pursued. By the potter it is employed in communicating a black glazing to the common ware. By the glass maker for depriving vitrescent mixtures of the green hue given by iron, and occasionally as a colouring ingredient; and by the chemist for procuring oxygen gas, which substance it yields in great abundance. Its importance as an item in the catalogue of useful minerals afforded by the U. S. is therefore considerable; and it may be regarded as an advantageous discovery in a country which has hitherto been supplied with this article, exclusively, by G. Britain, imported either directly from the Island of Britain, or from her dependencies in Nova Scotia.

From the Albany Daily Advertiser.

Having recently published in our paper a very interesting law case relative to an appeal, for murder, in England, the public attention has in consequence been directed to the subject of the trial by battle, as anciently practised in Europe, on appeals of this nature—a short description of the form of such trial will not, therefore, we presume, be deemed irrelevant at this time, and may perhaps be gratifying to many of our readers. The extract is from a late number of the Quarterly Review.

"If the appellant accepts the challenge of the defendant, and takes up his glove, the parties must be put to their oaths.—And first, the defendant, laying his right hand on the gospels, and taking hold of the appellant's right hand with his left, will swear to this effect:—'Hear this, O man, whom I hold by the hand, who callest thyself William by the name of baptism, that I who call myself Abraham by the name of baptism, did not feloniously murder thy sister, Mary by name, nor am any way guilty of the said felony; so help me God;' [and then he shall kiss the book and say] 'and this I will defend against thee by my body as this court shall award.'—Then the appellant, laying his right hand on the book, and taking the defendant's right with his left, will swear to this effect: 'Hear this O man, whom I hold by the hand, who callest thyself Abraham by the name of baptism, that thou art perjured, and therefore perjured because thou feloniously didst murder my sister, Mary by name; so help me God;' [and then he shall kiss the book and say] 'and this I will prove against thee by my body, as this court shall award.'—The court must then appoint a day and place for the combat; and the lists must be prepared, by enclosing a piece of ground, sixty feet square, the sides to be due north, south, east and west. Places just without the lists are to be provided for the judges, and also for the bar. On the day fixed, the court is, at sun-rise, to proceed to the spot from Westminster Hall, the judges being in their full robes; and, when they are seated, proclamation is made for the combatants; who appear, with bare heads, arms and legs, each led by a person carrying his baton of an ell long, tipped with horn, and preceded by another carrying his target made of double leather and square.—Each, on entering the lists, makes congees to the several judges present; and before they engage, they respectively take an oath against witchcraft and sorcery to this effect: 'Hear this, ye justices, that I [Abraham Thornton or William Ashford] have this day neither eat nor drunk; nor have upon me bone, stone, or grass; nor have done any thing, nor any other for me, whereby the law of God may be depressed and the law of the devil exalted. So help me God.' And then, after proclamation of silence under pain of imprisonment for a year and a day, the combat is to begin, and to continue unless either party yields or is vanquished, till the stars appear in the evening.

If the appellan is defeated, he is subject to a year's imprisonment and a fine, and besides must make restitution in damages; but if the appellant turns craven, that is, gives up the battle from cowardice, he becomes infamous and loses the privileges of a freeman. On the other hand, if the defendant is defeated, he is to be executed instantly; nor can the king pardon him; but if he is victorious, or can maintain the fight till the evening he is to be honorably acquitted."

SUBSCRIPTIONS TO PROMOTE EDUCATION.

We do not remember ever to have noticed more liberal donations than will be found to the subscription paper handed about last fall among the farmers of the South West Mountain, (Va) and adjacent country. The object was to raise money for the purpose of erecting a College, (called, we believe, the Centre College) in the neighbourhood of the village of Charlottesville, the seat of justice of the county of Albemarle. A number subscribed the sum of a thousand dollars each, which, when the object is considered, together with the proportion this amount bears to their annual income, we record it as uncommonly liberal.—Upon the same principle, it would be unjust not to add, that among those subscribing small sums, instances of equal, if not greater generosity, could be pointed out. It is to be remarked, among the former appear the names of Monroe, Jefferson and Madison. In the county of Albemarle, upwards of 50,000 dollars were subscribed towards this institution, the building of which is rapidly progressing; and it is anticipated that it will be one of the first institutions that the country affords. Great exertions are already making to procure the most scientific professors. [Franklin Gaz.

A LEAP.

In the evening of the 9th of May last, a man named Elihu Miller, having "taken a cup too much" wandered to a precipice not far north of Brockway's ferry in Lyme, and not knowing where he was, deliberately walked or rather reeled to its brink, from which he fell 40 feet perpendicular among the rocks below. He was found the next morning, taken up and carried home. His life was for a while despaired of; but he is now in a fair way of recovery.

There is a promontory on the island of Lucas in the Ionian sea, on the top of which was a Temple dedicated to Apollo. To this Temple despairing lovers resorted, made their secret vows and leaped into the sea; this was called LOVER'S LEAP. From this "towering height," in the 25th Olympiad, 124 males and 126 females precipitated themselves headlong into the "briny deep," 180 of whom were cured; the others probably perished. Sappho, however, in her descent, was changed into a swan, took wing, and flew away.

In this country, (whether from climate or from reason it matters not) the violent effects of this "honey and gall of life," are extremely seldom. Though Cupid's dart does sometimes prick a little too deep for comfort's sake, still we are inclined to think more are in love with "Sir Richard," than with any other character. It is therefore proposed that a Temple be built on Miller's ledge, and dedicated to Bacchus, that those addicted to habitual intoxication, may repair thither and take the drunkard's leap.

Come tipplers all, fear not the fall,
But take the leap and cure;
You'd better break a leg or neck,
Than greater ills endure.

LITERARY.

"Mandeville, a tale of the 17th Century, by William Godwin."—Republished at New York, 1818.

In the preface of this work the author has introduced the following remark:—"The impression which first led me to look with an eye of favor upon the subject here treated, was derived from a story book called Wieland, written by a person certainly of distinguished genius, who I believe was born and died in the province of Pennsylvania, in the United States of North America, and who calls himself C. B. BROWN."

We have often remarked the resemblance in the productions of Mr. Godwin and our countryman, Brown; but it is not our present design to point out the particulars in which it exists. Our attention has been excited to the obscurity in which the name and history of one of the greatest geniuses our country has produced lies buried. Mr. Charles Brockden Brown was a native of Philadelphia, where he died in one thousand eight hundred and ten. His life was a life of literature, and he furnished a rare and almost solitary instance in the U. States, of one who sought subsistence in the character of an author by profession. As a novelist, he has had no rival in our country. While we have been so liberally supplied with productions of this character from the English presses, the Edgar Huntley and Arthur Mervyn of Mr. Brown have been republished and applauded in England. In addition to those, he wrote Wieland, Jane Talbot and Clara Howard. His last literary engagement was that of conducting the American Register. We recollect that, several years since, proposals were made for publishing his life and a collection of his writings, and the present editor of the Baltimore Federal Republican, a gentleman whose talents certainly qualified him for the task, was the person from whom we were authorised to expect its performance

IMPORTANT TO PRINTERS.

Last week a cause of considerable interest to printers, was tried before Mr. Wortman, at the second ward court of this city, where a master printer was plaintiff, and the journeyman defendant. The suit was brought for damages against the defendant for leaving his employer without notice. After a patient investigation and due deliberation on the part of the justice, judgement was given for the plaintiff upon the ground, that when a journeyman is engaged an implied contract is entered into to finish the work he begins—and if he leaves it unfinished, he forfeits what he has earned on the form; and further, if he leaves without due notice, he is liable to pay damages sustained.

A POPULAR PREACHER.

The Rev. Dr. ——— is what is usually denominated 'a popular preacher.'—His reputation, however, has not been acquired by his drawing largely on his own stores of knowledge and eloquence, but by the skill with which he appropriates the thoughts and language of the great divines who have gone before him.—Those who compose a fashionable audience, are not deeply read in pulpit lore, and accordingly, with such hearers, he passes for a wonder of erudition and pathos. It did nevertheless happen that the doctor was once detected in his larcenies: One Sunday as he was beginning to delight the beaux and belles of his quarter of the metropolis, a grave old gentleman seated himself close to the pulpit, and listened with profound attention.—The doctor had scarcely finished his third sentence, before the grave old gentleman muttered, loud enough to be heard by those near, "That's Sherlock." The doctor frowned, but went on. He had not proceeded much farther when his tormenting interrupter broke out with, "That's Trillotson!" The doctor bit his lips and paused—but again thought it better to pursue the thread of his discourse. A third exclamation of "That's Blair!" was, however, too much, and that completely deprived him of his patience. Leaning over the pulpit, "Fellow," he cried, 'if you do not hold your tongue, you shall be turned out.' Without altering a muscle of his countenance, the grave old gentleman lifted up his head, and looking the doctor in the face retorted, 'That's his own!'

ADDISON says, that a dog has been the companion of man 600 years, and has learned but one of his vices—that is, to worry his species when he finds them in distress. Tie a saucepan to a dog's tail, and another will fall on him—put a man in prison for debt, and another will lodge a detainer against him.

The following singular occurrence is from the "Abeille du Nord," of 17th August.

An occurrence has happened in [illegible] neighborhood of Frankfort, which looked upon as an example of divine justice. A woman believing her husband killed in 1806, at the battle of Jena, married again without scruple. The man had not been killed, but only wounded: he was cured by the French, and entered the service of one of the Prussian regiments which France raised at the period. After serving for more than three years in Spain, he suddenly returned to Prussia, and went to look for his wife. The latter was afraid to acknowledge that she had got another in his place, and suffered him to go to bed; but immediately induced the new husband to rid her of this returning importune. The unhappy man was strangled and put into a sack, and they set off to carry him away and throw him into the Oder. But the weight of the body burst the sack, and one foot came through. The woman hastened to sew up the torn place, but did not perceive that at the same time she sewed the clothes of her accomplice. Being arrived at the bank of the river, the latter proceeded to a pier, and endeavored to throw over the body of his victim. He was dragged in with him, and was drowning, when the woman, forgetting how important it was to her to hold her tongue, set up a terrible cry. Some peasants ran up; the two criminals were arrested, and they confessed their crime with all its particulars.

Dr. Thomson's System of Chemistry.

IN FOUR VOLUMES OCTAVO.

THE preceding edition of Dr. Thomson's Chemistry, had acquired so much reputation both in England and upon the continent of Europe, that a new edition, comprising the new facts with which the science had been enriched, and the new views of the subject which extended knowledge had suggested as indispensable, was eagerly looked for by the scientific world. A new edition has accordingly appeared, wherein the former edition of five volumes has been condensed into four.

All the new discoveries, and all the new theories of Chemical Phænomena, have been considered and embraced in the present improved edition: so that it is indispensable to the chemical student, as presenting the only condensed view of the changes and alterations in chemical doctrine, which the discoveries of the last ten years have suggested. No apology therefore can be necessary for reprinting such a book in this country; for the press does not furnish a substitute for it. But, there is so much theoretical suggestion—so much abstruse calculation—so much fact of dubious authority—and so much dubious validity—that notes and illustrations are absolutely necessary, not merely to render the book more useful, but more intelligible.

Under these impressions, I thought fit to write notes in illustration (and sometimes in contradiction) of the work itself, rather than to make any abridgement of it. Those who wish to know the modern views of chemical science, must peruse it; and to very many who will be anxious to study it, elucidation will be necessary. I have endeavoured to supply these, to the best of my ability; regardless whether my own opinions are in dissonance or coincidence with those of my author; leaving to the reader to decide between us.

The work will be published, with notes and illustrations, in four volumes 8vo.

THOMAS COOPER, M. D.

CONDITIONS.

I. The work will be printed on a superfine paper, with a new small pica letter; and will be published early in the ensuing summer.

II. It will be illustrated with a number of cuts, of which several have been necessarily added to the London edition.

III. It will be delivered to subscribers at $12—to non-subscribers at $14, in boards. The London edition sells for $18.

Fan-Sash Making.

METAL FAN-SASHES, of various descriptions, will be made by the subscriber, at his shop, lower end of Duke street. The want of a Metal Fan-Sash Manufactory in Alexandria, has hitherto been severely felt by builders and others, who have been compelled to make use of wood, which is neither elegant nor durable. The various forms into which the metal can be shaped have given it a decided superiority, and the difference in the price is very trifling. The subscriber has been at considerable expence in procuring the necessary preparations, and relies on public enterprise for success in the undertaking.

February 19

James Kennedy & Son,

RESPECTFULLY inform the public that they have just received from LEE's MEDICINE STORE, No. 46, Maiden lane, New-York, a fresh supply of the following valuable MEDICINES:

Hamilton's Worm destroying Lozenges,

Which have within sixteen years past cured an immense number of persons of both sexes of every age and in every situation, of various dangerous complaints arising from WORMS, and from obstructions or foulness in the stomach and bowels.

This medicine bears no analogy whatever to others of similar titles so commonly complained of as operating with violence; on the contrary a particular excellence of this remedy is its being suited to every age and constitution. It contains nothing but what is perfectly innocent & is so mild in its operation that it cannot injure the most delicate pregnant lady or the tenderest infant of a week old should no worms exist in the body; but will without pain or griping cleanse the stomach and bowels of whatever is foul or offensive, and thereby prevent the production of worms and many fatal disorders. The lozenges are particularly efficacious in carrying off all gross humours and eruptions, feverish and bilious complaints, and are the safest and mildest purgative that can be used on any occasion.

Description of Worms, and the symptoms by which they are known.

Worms which infest the human body are chiefly of four kinds viz.—The Teres or large round worm; the Ascarides or small maw-worm; the Cucurbitini or short flat white worm; and lastly, the Tænia or tape-worm, so called from its resemblance to tape. This is often many yards long and is full of joints. It is most hurtful and most difficult to remove.

Among the symptoms attending worms are—disagreeable breath, especially in the morning; bad and corrupted gums; itching in the nose, and about the seat; convulsions, epileptic fits, and sometimes privation of speech; starting and grinding of the teeth in sleep; irregular appetite, sometimes loathing food and sometimes voracious; purging with slimy and fœtid stools; vomiting; large and hard belly; pains and sickness at the stomach; pains in the head and thighs and lowness of spirits; slow fever with small and irregular pulse; a dry cough; excessive thirst; sometimes pale and unhealthy countenance, and sometimes the face bloated and flushed.

Persons afflicted with any of the above symptoms should have immediate recourse to Hamilton's Worm Destroying Lozenges, which have been constantly attended with success in all complaints similar to those above described.

A dose of this medicine given occasionally during the warm season, will effectually prevent "the vomiting and purging of children"—a dreadful disorder, which annually destroys thousands of the infant part of our citizens. It is likewise the mildest and most certain remedy known, and has restored to health and strength a great number when in an advanced stage of this fatal complaint. Particular and plain instructions are given for every part of the necessary treatment in such cases.

Children generally take this medicine with eagerness; having a pleasing appearance, and an agreeable taste.

The Restorative Powder for the Teeth and Gums.

For the prevention and cure of BILIOUS AND MALIGNANT FEVERS is recommended

HAHN's ANTI-BILIOUS PILLS

THIS Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly grateful to the inventor's feelings in several parts of the West Indies and in the Southern and Middle States, &c.

The testimony of a number of persons can be adduced, who have reason to believe that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives when in the most alarming circumstances.

Facts of this conclusive nature speak more in favour of a medicine than columns of pompous eulogy founded on mere assertion.

It is not indeed presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience for believing that a dose of these Pills taken once in every two weeks during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an infallible preventive; and further, that in the earlier stages of those diseases their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases esteemed desperate and beyond the power of common remedies.

The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation and of every age.

They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile and prevent its morbid secretions—to restore and amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which are often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold if taken on its first appearance: they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

They have been found remarkably efficacious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.

Hamilton's Elixir,

A sovereign remedy for colds, obstinate coughs, asthmas, sore throats, catarrhs, and approaching consumptions.—To parents who have children afflicted with the HOOPING COUGH, this discovery is of the first magnitude, as it affords immediate relief, checks the progress, and in a short time entirely removes the most cruel disorders to which children are liable. The Elixir is perfectly agreeable, and the dose so small that no difficulty arises in taking it.

Hamilton's Grand Restorative,

Is recommended as an invaluable medicine for the speedy relief and permanent cure of

Nervous Disorders	Violent cramps in the stomach and back
Consumptions	Indigestion
Lowness of spirits	Melancholy
Loss of appetite	Gout in the stomach

Hamilton's Essence and Extract of Mustard.

A safe and effectual remedy for acute and chronic rheumatism, gout, rheumatic gout, palsy, lumbago, numbness, white swellings, chilblains, sprains, bruises, pain in the face and neck, etc. etc.

Lee's Ointment for the Itch.

Warranted an infallible remedy at one application, may be used with perfect safety by pregnant women, or on infants a week old, not containing a particle of mercury or any dangerous ingredient whatever, and not accompanied with that tormenting smart which attends the application of other remedies.

Hahn's true & genuine German Corn Plaister.

An infallible remedy for corns, speedily removing them root and branch, without giving any pain.

The Genuine Persian Lotion,

So celebrated among the fashionable throughout Europe, is an invaluable cosmetic, perfectly innocent and safe, free from corrosive and repellent minerals, the basis of other lotions, and of unparalleled efficacy in removing blemishes of the face and skin, freckles, pimples, inflamatory redness, scurfs, tetters, ringworms, sunburns, prickly heat, &c.

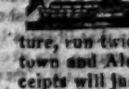
The Union.



For the better accommodation of the public, the UNION will, in future, run twice a day between Georgetown and Alexandria—provided the receipts will justify the additional expense:

She will leave Georgetown at half past eight and at one o'clock—and will leave Alexandria at half past ten and at four.

She will take on board, and land passengers at the Bridge, on her way up and down.

On Sundays she will, as usual, go to Fort Washington, leaving Alexandria at half past ten, A. M.
